Summer 2011

Fiscal Year 2010 Annual Report

The past 18 months have been a period of change and growth for Heartly House. Not only have we had to manage the global economic downturn, state, federal and county budget cuts, and a lingering recession that has understandably caused those who have been generous in their support of the organization in the past to reconsider their charitable giving; but we have been challenged by the departure of the organization's Chief Executive Officer and the Development Director - two key positions within the agency.

Thanks to the outstanding leadership of past-Chair, Julie Donat, and the commitment and devotion of an incredible staff of compassionate, caring employees, I am happy to report that Heartly House continues to be a State leader in Domestic Violence education, intervention and victim recovery. Our new Chief Executive Officer, Ashley Mancinelli, and new Development Manager, Robin Rose, are working hard to raise awareness about domestic violence and enhance our fundraising efforts. With an outstanding Board of Directors who are invested in the organization's success, and focused upon the kind of generative thinking that enables partnerships and encourages creative resource management, Heartly House is poised for an exciting period of new opportunities and growth.

But, my friends, we must never lose sight of two important realities: First, the need for the services provided by Heartly House continues to grow right here in Frederick County with each passing day. The irony is that just at the moment when our services are needed the most, a difficult economic environment hampers our ability to garner the financial support necessary to provide for the growing demand for shelter, support and counseling.

Second, we must never forget that the extraordinary services provided by Heartly House would not be available without the many gifts and talents of the organization's dedicated staff. When the agency's financial profile was compromised by the economic downturn, Heartly House employees accepted some unpleasant - but necessary - constraints on their own economic well-being in order to keep providing the services our clients so desperately need. They truly are the heart and soul of Heartly House. It is through their hands that your good intentions become a reality.

In closing, allow me to thank you for your support of Heartly House and to encourage you to keep us in your thoughts throughout the year. As financial support at all levels of the government is cleaved by the budget axe, the generosity of the citizens of Frederick County will be more important than ever before. If you think that your contributions will be used to rescue the life of a stranger - think again. Without question, someone you know is trapped in the despair and desperation that is domestic violence. Help us help them.

Thank you.
