Serving survivors of domestic violence, sexual assault and child abuse

A LETTER TO YOU

Dear Friends,

Fiscal Year 2017 was a year of growth, activity, and promise. We hired new staff to reach under-represented domestic violence, sexual assault, and child abuse survivors and began a new human trafficking outreach program.

Thanks to the Ausherman Family Foundation, we were able to hire a Spanish-speaking licensed counselor to provide clinical services to survivors. We now have a Spanish language domestic violence group and Spanish language individual counseling. The response in the Hispanic community to these programs has been overwhelmingly positive.

In addition to services in Spanish, we collaborated with The Frederick Center to create and implement Safe Spaces, a group for LGBTQ survivors of sexual assault. Members of the LGBTQ community are at increased risk of violence by both known and unknown perpetrators, but are afraid to seek help for fear of experiencing even greater shame. Safe Spaces has allowed these folks to have a safe and accepting place to talk about their trauma and begin their healing process.

Contrary to conventional wisdom, most human trafficking in Maryland is of residents of the United States who have fallen into the wrong hands. To combat this problem, the Frederick County Commissioners voted to develop and support a county task force on human trafficking in fiscal year 2017. To assist in this effort, Heartly House applied for and received funding to hire a part-time Human Trafficking Outreach Coordinator, who has assisted the Task Force in analyzing the issue in Frederick County and devising a screening tool for law enforcement and social service agencies to use when there is a suspected case of human trafficking.

In our effort to communicate the impact our services have made in Frederick county, we were highlighted in several Frederick News Post articles, on WDVM (formerly WHAG), and in Frederick Magazine.

While Heartly House continues to provide the legal, counseling, crisis intervention and shelter services for which we are known, we never stop learning or growing or reaching out to others to continue to provide the most informed, compassionate and comprehensive services possible to our community.

We are so grateful to you for your ongoing support of Heartly House. We are privileged to have such a wonderful group of supporters who share our mission of safety for all.

Heartly House, Inc.

Heartly House makes a difference in our community by providing comprehensive services to victims and survivors of domestic violence, sexual assault and child abuse.

OUR HISTORY

In 1977, the Junior Woman's Club of Frederick investigated the problem of spousal abuse in Frederick County. At that time, there were no agencies in the County that dealt directly with the problems of domestic violence, rape, and/or sexual assault.

Club members demonstrated that domestic violence, rape, and sexual assault existed in our community by compiling statistics from the local police, Department of Social Services, and other service agencies. As a result, in 1978 the Frederick County Task Force on Battered Spouses was established.

The Task Force solicited community support in developing a program to meet the previously unrecognized needs of physically and sexually abused residents. The program became incorporated as a 501(c)3 non-profit organization under laws of the State of Maryland as the Frederick County Advisory Board for Battered Spouses, Inc., on December 4, 1979. The name was changed to Heartly House, Inc., in 1985.

HEARTLY HOUSE TODAY

Heartly House is...

- One of Maryland's 21 state-funded domestic violence programs and one of 17 rape crisis programs.
- The only comprehensive domestic violence and sexual assault service provider in Frederick County.

By ensuring immediate safety, empowering victims to break their silence, and offering alternatives to violent homes, Heartly House helps break the cycle of violence and makes our community a better and safer place to live.
